Daily Press Exclusive Interview:

'He Was Shot At,' Wife Of Accused Slayer Sobs

By DAVE ANDREWS

Mrs. Claire G. Slick was crying in her Ypsilanti home.

"Nothing like this has ever happened before. I don't understand legal matters."

Mary Slick's husband is in the Menominee County jail charged with murder in the shooting Nov. 18 of Walter (Tony) Wojcik, 30, of La-Branche. Preliminary hearing in the case is set for 2 p. m. Friday, Dec. 2, at Menominee.

"I'm going to come up there," she sobbed into the telephone. "I'm no good to him here. Maybe, I won't be any good to him there either, but at least I'll be near him."

"He's all alone up there. Here, everybody knows him and likes him."

Claire G. Slick, 44, is employed at Ford Motor Company's Dearborn engineering plant as a bargaining committee member for the United Auto Workers. He was elected to the position several years ago by union members. Previously, he was a plumber and pipefitter.

Mrs. Slick said her husband, a husky six-footer, two of her sons, George and Paul, and four other friends—Milo Croff, Wayne; Al Dill, Iivonia; Samuel Poland, Inkster; and Charley Cornwall, Rockwood; had gone to the Upper Peninsula to hunt deer. It was her husband's first trip to the U. P. to hunt.

"They went to hunt around Republic, south of Republic somewhere," she explained. "After a few days they stopped at a Conservation Dept. check station to ask about Area 5 or 5A. They (the conservation men) explained where 5 and 5A were and they pulled into this place Wednesday, paper mill land or something."

"None of the gang had ever been there before. They hunted Thursday and were planning on coming back Friday to the cabin we have at Kalkaska for opening day in Lower Michigan."

Claire Gordon Slick

Early in the morning on Friday, she said, there was an accident.

"He didn't know for sure," she continued, her voice broken by emotion. "The two boys were with him. He didn't know if the man was hurt. All of the gang was afraid to go into the brush and check. He was shot at."

"They waited around and the man's truck had disappeared. The truck was gone and the dog was OK and they left."

Mrs. Bertha Wojcik, the victim's mother, was led to her son's body by the family dog about 3 p. m. Friday afternoon, police said. She had found her son's pickup truck and started calling the dog.

The truck, with the driver's side door open according to police, was found on the Wojcik property some distance up a grassy road from the Wojcik's posted fence line. His body was lying face up some 80 to 100 yards from the fence on Kimberly-Clark land.

Wojcik's 22 caliber automatic rifle was lying along side. Police declined comment on whether or not it might have been fired.

Mrs. Slick said the party stopped on the way back home to register their deer.

Cornwall and Croff stayed at Kalkaska to hunt.

She said both her sons had volunteered to take lie detector tests. Paul in Ypsilanti and George in Menominee. George, the oldest boy, she said, was going to come with her to the Upper Peninsula to be with her husband.

"I'm trying to make arrangements," she continued. "I keep three county patients to pick up a little extra money. If anything happens, I'll have to have those patients to support us. I've never worked outside in my life. I can't lose those patients."

Mrs. Slick said she and her husband will be married 20 years next April. With her income from county patients helping, they put in a swimming pool at their Pasadena Ave. home last summer.

"We put it in for the kids," she added. "That way we know where they are."

Mrs. Slick said she hoped to leave for Menominee Friday night.

"Friends are going to take care of my children," she said. "I can't afford to stay in a motel or hotel or anything like that. One of the fellas is going to bring his camper. He's going to stay with me and George. We'll find a State Park or somewhere to park."

"I just can't stay home anymore . . ."

Rain Eases Air Pollution Crisis On East Coast

NEW YORK (AP) — Rain fell Friday night and early today in many areas of the smog-stricken northeastern seaboard, bringing with it the possibility of an end to the three-day air pollution crisis.

A Weather Bureau spokesman said rain helps "clear the atmosphere of fine dust particles," and he looked for the arrival of a cold air mass, which has been lying to the northwest, to crowd out the blanket of stale air.

Since Wednesday the inert air, getting dirtier all the while, clung over communities from Massachusetts to Maryland. Hardest hit were metropolitan areas with their mass industry and transit.

New York City, Connecticut and New Jersey were placed on anti-pollution alerts. A voluntary ban on use of cars was urged.

In all affected areas, victims of heart disease, emphysema and chronic bronchitis were advised to remain indoors, with windows closed, and to use air conditioners if possible.

In Philadelphia, the pollution index hit the top scale reading of 10. City Health Commissioner Norman Ingraham said the top reading was not really serious temporarily, but it becomes dangerous "when such maximum conditions persist for several days."

New York's air pollution "norm" on a different scale has been set at 12, and the danger level at 30. Thursday the index read 20. At midnight Friday night it was down to 17.0.

The smog was part of a massive inversion blocking the escape of fumes from the lower atmosphere.

Johnson Planning To Cut Budget $3 Billion

State Workers Balk At $21.5 Million Increase

LANSING (AP) — The Civil Service Commission's staff

raising everybody's pay by the same amount. "An attendant Nurse B, which is our largest classification, gets $2.21 an hour to start and climbs to $2.61 after four years," he said. "Based on the projected 7.5 per cent raise, she will get about another 19 cents."

Robert Grosvenor, director of the Michigan State Employees Union, said if the commission adopts the recommendations next month, the state's 39,000 civil service workers will still be underpaid compared with employees of many private firms.

The recommendation called for pay raises totaling $18 million in fiscal 1967-68 and averaging around 7 per cent. Some workers would get up to 16 per cent more money. Fringe benefits, mostly insurance premiums, worth $3.5 million are also in the staff recommendation.

Some classifications and their recommended increases are regular clerical workers, 5 to 8 per cent; labor and trades classes, 6.4 to 8.1; engineers 5 to 8.1; and doctors and physicians, 5 to 8.

The department said the largest increases, 14-16 per cent, would go to some classes of systems analysts, elevator and boiler inspectors, highway drill core operators, prison industry workers, disability examiners and vocational rehabilitation workers.

The recommendation, it said, would also permit state employees to include all paid leave time in their regular 80-hour bi-weekly work period. Employees who earn $4.18 an hour or less are made eligible for time and a half pay for overtime work.

Under the recommendation, employees would have to pay about 15 per cent more for state-furnished meals and 25 per cent more for living quarters provided by the state.

Bigger Hole In Head Rates Raise In Disability Pay

CHARLESTON, W.Va. (AP) — Arandall J. Snodgrass, 43, who was wounded by a Japanese sniper in the Philippines during World War II, has worn a silver plate in his head for more than 20 years.

He has been receiving a government disability pension for the wound. A few weeks ago a Veterans Administration official in the regional office in Huntington discovered the hole in Snodgrass' head was larger than had been marked on government records.

The VA office said Snodgrass of Charleston, would receive $10,537.40 in back payments since his disability pension was based on an inaccurate rate determined by the size of bone loss in the skull.

Senate, House Leaders Praise Spending Slash

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Both Republican and Democratic congressional leaders have applauded President Johnson's declaration that he plans to trim federal programs by more than $3 billion next year.

After conferring with the leaders for several hours Friday at his ranch, Johnson held a news conference. The Senate and House leaders took part in the meeting with newsmen.

"Our goal is to have in excess of $3 billion in program reductions," Johnson said.

He said the cutback will be accomplished by setting aside programs "if we think they can be done better tomorrow than they can today in the light of the war situation and in the light of other demands being made on the government."

Asked whether he and Republican House Leader Gerald R. Ford were "now generally happy with the effort the President is making to cut nonessential spending," Senate GOP Leader Everett M. Dirksen replied:

"GOP Leaders Happy
"Any effort in that direction, and particularly when it is substantial, ought to make everybody who embraces a reasonable or moderate or conservative view quite happy. Moving in that direction certainly does make us happy. It will have a definite impact on the inflationary picture that obtains to some extent in the country."

Ford, one of Johnson's sharpest congressional critics, said "it seems to me we are moving exactly in the right direction."

Johnson, since assuming the presidency, has met many times with the bipartisan leadership. But Friday's conference was the first such meeting at the LBJ Ranch.

The presidential news session was so hurriedly arranged that newsmen had to be taken to the ranch by helicopters from Austin, 63 miles to the west. Johnson, who said he is feeling fine following his Nov. 16 operations for a throat polyp and repair of an incisional hernia, wore a light tan sports outfit with a big presidential seal on it.

Program Cutbacks
Johnson began by telling newsmen the discussions with the leaders included the military and diplomatic situations in Viet Nam, the economic situation and program cutbacks.

Johnson said Budget Director Charles L. Schultze, with whom he also conferred Friday will meet with Cabinet members early next week to make further recommendations for cutting back government programs. He said he would take prompt action on them.

Asked his appraisal of the military situation, Johnson said much of the latest report on that is classified.

But he added: "The summary is that the military operations continue to be successful. Our forces maintain the initiative. Our losses are light."

Federal Aid Slashed

State Roadbuilding Is Cut Back Sharply

LANSING (AP) — A $34 million cutback in federal funds will reduce Michigan's road building to emergency projects only in a few months, the state highway director said Friday.

The federal government notified the Michigan Highway Department Wednesday that it is cutting highway expenditures by 17.5 per cent for the rest of the fiscal year to ease inflationary pressures of the Viet Nam war. Highway Director Howard Hill said this will mean the $134 million in federal aid authorized for Michigan for the fiscal year ending next June 30 will be cut about $100 million.

He estimated the department already has committed about $38 million of its federal aid, including $23 million for a bid letter Dec. 7 on two Detroit freeway projects, work on I 75 near Standish and smaller freeway landscaping projects.

State Lacks Funds
Hill said the state does not have the funds to make up for the federal cutbacks and carry out the program as now scheduled.

"If we can't buy right-of-way and if we don't have the money to pay our contractors, we can't let contracts," he said.

But, he added, the road-building industry probably will not feel the pinch for several months because of current contracts.

Hill said this was the second cut this year in federal highway aid. A 10 per cent cut was made near the start of the fiscal year, he said, when the U.S. Bureau of the Budget was able to provide only $4 billion of the $4.4 billion authorized by Congress for projects across the nation. Hill is awaiting a detailed advisory from the U.S. Bureau of Public Roads on what effects the latest cutback will have on Michigan.

Nation Affected
WASHINGTON (AP) — The anti-inflationary cutback in the federal highway program will reduce the actual value of new road building contracts this fiscal year in all but seven states and the District of Columbia.

In addition to the 17.5 per cent reduction in this year's program, the Bureau of Public Roads cutback order also freezes the more than $1 billion in backlog states had accumulated through last June 30.

It will be up to the states, themselves, to decide where the actual cutbacks are to be made. The bureau anticipates that some projects will be postponed and others stretched out.

The cutback in this year's program from $4 billion to $3.3 billion is part of President Johnson's effort to cut nondefense spending as much as possible without harming essential programs.

The reason some states will be able to award more contracts this fiscal year than last is that they failed last year to use a substantial part of the contract authority they had already obtained from the bureau.

Big War Action Kills 1,106 Reds

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — U.S. troops in War Zone C called an end today to the biggest operation of the Viet Nam war with the Viet Cong still firing at one American command post.

Just about the time the 1st Infantry Division and other U.S. forces terminated Operation Attleboro, Communists unloaded a 30-round mortar barrage on the tactical command post of the division's 2nd Brigade.

The U.S. command said casualties were light in the 35-minute shelling early today.

Elsewhere, the U.S. command reported no ground action and South Vietnamese headquarters announced only three small, scattered clashes in which 18 Viet Cong were killed.

Over North Viet Nam, monsoon weather persisted and limited U.S. pilots to 29 bombing missions Friday.

Off the North Vietnamese coast, two U.S. destroyers reported damaging or destroying five cargo barges during Operation Traffic Cop, the Navy's month-old campaign to halt seaborne infiltration of supplies.

During the 43-day Operation Attleboro, fought in the jungle and brush country of Tay Ninh Province 45 to 65 miles north-west of Saigon, U.S. forces reported killing 1,106 of the enemy.

All six were charged with possession of marijuana and using a minor to transport marijuana.

Bond totaled $100,000-$30,000 on each count for Leo Sutton, 30, of Ypsilanti, Mich., and Wyatt Taylor, 40, of Jackson, Mich. Judge Hunter said the bond was high for the two because they were on parole for narcotics violations in Michigan.

Bond of $25,000 on each of the two major charges were set for Brenda Seymour, 19, of Canton, and Charles Taylor, 32, of Ypsilanti; Huston Taylor Jr., 37, of Ypsilanti, and Lucille Sutton, 29, of Ypsilanti.

Jerusalem In State Of Siege

JERUSALEM, Jordanian Sector (AP) — A state of siege gripped Jerusalem and most of the Holy Land of Jordan today after troops opened fire on anti-government demonstrators in Jerusalem's walled city Friday, killing two and seriously wounding six.

Jerusalem was placed under curfew at sundown after a funeral procession for the two dead turned into another anti-government demonstration outside the walls of the old city.

Arab Legion troops took over the city, patrolling its deserted streets and blocking all access roads.

Telephone communications with the outside world were cut off Friday evening.

The Holy City was shut tight this morning. Its streets were empty except for police patrols and truckloads of troops.

Steel-helmeted Arab Legionnaires were posted on rooftops and walls.

Officer Elmore's Pride Is Hurt

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP) — After stopping a speeder, Patrolman David H. Elmore dismounted from his motorcycle, its engine idling, to write a ticket.

But before he could reach the speeder's car, his machine's gears somehow became engaged and it took off riderless. Elmore couldn't catch it before it rammed a parked car. The speeder drove off.

There was damage to the cycle, the parked auto — and Elmore's pride.

Delta Has Two At 4-H Session

Michigan is officially represented at the 45th National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago by 34 "Cream of the Crop" 4-H club members.

Two are from Delta County — Cynthia Safford, Ensign, winning in All Achievement; and Gary Johnson, Gladstone, winning in conservation.

The Congress program centers around the theme, "Pursuit of Excellence."

Prominent leaders from government, education and business will meet with the delegates starting today providing a greater depth of challenge in setting high standards for a better tomorrow.

Participants will discuss and analyze important issues affecting citizens of the U. S. as well as explore various career opportunities.

Featured events range from the International Livestock Exposition to a special "pop" concert designed for the delegates by the Chicago Symphony Orchestra.

National scholarship winners will be announced through the week.

The Michigan delegation will be accompanied by Mrs. Ruth Moeckel, Mt. Clemens, and Floyd Roberts, Alger County.

UPCAP President, Harold Dettman of St. Ignace said "There will be a closed session of the delegate body from 2 to 3 p.m., following by the monthly meeting of the executive committee."

"We are looking forward to the meeting since it marks a milestone in UPCAP's history. But even more, we wish this to be an occasion for looking ahead to a new year of action in promoting the development of our region. With delegate support we are sure that UPCAP can continue to make a significant contribution to the progress of our Upper Peninsula."

The meeting will be the first since the defeat of Congressman Raymond Clevenger (D-Sault Ste. Marie) who had worked closely with UPCAP.

Congressman-elect Philip Rupprecht (R-Houghton) has been in communication with UPCAP officials and has set up a conference on a continuum of projects which rely on federal financing.

Charles Varnum, state representative-elect in the 107th District, is seeking office space in Escanaba. He said Friday that he hoped to find space in the State Office Building for an office where citizens could take their state legislative problems.

Varnum, who defeated Rep. Einar Erlandsen (D-Escanaba), seeking a 10th term in the Legislature, in the Nov. 8 election, is back at his job teaching school at Manistique.

He said that he plans to resign his teaching job at the end of this year and to give full time thereafter to his duties as state representative in the district which includes Delta, Schoolcraft and Luce counties and part of Chippewa.

Mrs. Varnum and their children will remain in Manistique, he said, and he will spend weekends at home as much as possible.

Varnum said that he was progressing with organization of the advisory committee throughout the district which he announced in his campaign that he would form if elected.

His present expenditures, Varnum said, have gotten far out of kilter with his income and the budget has been balanced only because of the surplus.

When it's gone soon there must be much more tax income or a big reduction in state spending, which later appears impossible.

So new taxes are the prospect. Both Democrats and Republicans put them off this year because of the election.

Johnson answered with one word, "Yes," when asked whether the possibility of an income tax increase was discussed.

Questioned further, he said the tax discussion was purely incidental, and that he didn't believe the leaders expressed their views.

"There will be a lot of discussion about it," Johnson commented. "But there won't be any decision until the facts are in and we have the figures upon which the decisions can be based. They can't be made in November."

Johnson answered with one word, "Yes," when asked whether the possibility of an income tax increase was discussed.

Questioned further, he said the tax discussion was purely incidental, and that he didn't believe the leaders expressed their views.

"There will be a lot of discussion about it," Johnson commented. "But there won't be any decision until the facts are in and we have the figures upon which the decisions can be based. They can't be made in November."

Longer Runways Would 'Update' City Airport

The improvement of the Escanaba Municipal Airport — particularly the lengthening of runways to accommodate D-9 operations—is suggested in the 1968 Airline Industry Survey of airports.

A copy of the survey, received by North Central Airlines as a member of the Air Transport Association, has been forwarded to the City of Escanaba.

Milton H. Ellyson, North Central's manager-airport requirements, describes the report as "of value to you toward reviewing and updating your airport" in a letter to City Manager George Harvey.

The city manager has made the information available to the Council, the airport advisory committee, and the public.

North Central is proposing to have jet DC-9 passenger planes in operation on its primary routes only by early 1968. The DC-9's will carry about 90 passengers.

The Escanaba airport's east-west runway is now 5,000 feet long and it is recommended by the Airline Industry that the runway be extended to 6,500 feet. High intensity lights should also be extended the entire length of the runway, and the ramp enlarged, it is recommended.

All weather marking on the east-west runway for purposes of identification and to enhance instrument operations is also proposed. Both the runway extension as proposed and the improved lighting and equipment are contained in a project sponsored by the city and now before the Michigan Aeronautics Commission, with financing by local, state and federal funds.

A new taxiway serving the east-west runway is also recommended as a means of expediting aircraft movements.

The Airline Industry survey recommendation that the present north-south runway—presently 3,800 feet long—be extended to a total length of 6,000 feet is impossible at the present location, said Jon Thorin, airport manager.

"The north-south runway will have to be relocated before this length is possible to attain," Thorin said. "At the present runway location the Michigan Aeronautics Commission says that only an additional 300 feet is possible."

The proposal is that the north-south runway be relocated to the west end of the airport, where the additional length required for DC-9 operations is available.

Relocation of the north-south runway would probably make it necessary also to consider relocation of the airport terminal building. Presently there are plans to construct a new terminal building in the general area at the south end of the north-south runway.

Mail It Early!

Esky Yule Mail Of 2.5 Million Pieces Expected

ESKY YULE MAIL

Postmaster James E. Pryal reminded Delta County residents today that Christmas is just a month away.

"While that may seem like a long time to most people, it is frighteningly short to those of us in the Postal Service," he said.

"Postmaster General Lawrence F. O'Brien has predicted that well over eight billion pieces of mail must be delivered between now and Christmas Eve, a new record.

"We are asking everyone to start thinking about their Christmas shopping and mailing now. If all the holiday mail were to hit the postal system at one time, it is obvious that we'd have difficulty delivering every piece on time."

The Escanaba Post Office expects to handle 2,500,000 pieces of mail during the holiday rush, Pryal said.

Mailing early and spreading the mail flow out along the entire pre-Christmas season is the key to better mail service at this time of the year.

Last year the public cooperation was "tremendous," according to Pryal. Virtually every piece of holiday mail was delivered before Christmas Day.

This year with increased volume because of the continuing strength of the economy we are hoping to see that fine cooperative spirit again.

Postmaster Pryal offered these mailing tips:

• Use ZIP Codes on all mail. "If there are some ZIP Codes that you still need for your mailing list, come to the Post Office and look them up in our ZIP Code directory or give us a call. ZIP Codes are more important than ever this year."

• Prepare your gifts list right away. The earlier you do your shopping, the better chance you have to get exactly what you want while the stores are still full of merchandise. That way, you can mail earlier too.

• Be sure to have enough boxes, tape, string and wrapping paper on hand.

• Wrap your packages well. Include sufficient padding. Remember, that your parcel may be shipped in a mail sack with a set of the encyclopedia riding on top.

• Include a card or piece of paper inside the package with your name and address and that of the person you are sending the parcel to in case the wrapping should be loose and come off. That way, you can be assured your gift will not wind up in the dead parcel office. Also, insert a list of the package's contents.

• Address your gifts and greetings clearly so that postal workers will have no difficulty in reading the destination. Use first-class postage on greeting cards. This assures their being forwarded if the recipient has moved. Cards that are undeliverable will be returned when you include a return address on the envelope. The Post Office Department has issued a special five-cent Christmas stamp which will help decorate your holiday mail.

• Most important, mail early.

State's Taxes Mount Faster Than Income

The $1 billion increase in Michigan state and local tax collections in the past eight years has raised the average of such taxes from $184 to $290 per resident, Tax Foundation, Inc., said today.

Total state and local tax collections were $2.4 billion in fiscal 1965; in fiscal 1957 the total was $1.4 billion. The 57 per cent increase in taxes compares with a 35 per cent increase in personal income per capita in the state over the period, the Foundation said.

State and local taxes in Michigan are $20 per person less than in Wisconsin, where the $310 per person ratio is the highest among the Great Lakes States, according to fiscal 1965 collections.

Nationally, Michigan's per capita tax load in 1965 was $23 above the national average of $266 based on rates ranging from a low of $159 in Arkansas to a high of $379 per person in California.

State and local tax collections have doubled since fiscal 1957.

Reprisal Raids Rebuked In UN

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—The stinging rebuke and threat of punishment that the Security Council has leveled against Israel reflects U.N. concern over the impact border clashes might have on the explosive situation in Jordan.

Diplomats noted that the council reacted to Israel's reprisal raids against three Jordanian villages Nov. 13 with the toughest resolution it has passed against that state in 15 years.

By a vote of 14-0 Friday the council issued a threat of economic and military penalties against Israel for the first time since it began dealing with the Middle East border quarrels.

Israel was plainly stung by the wording of the draft. Israeli Ambassador Michael Comay told the council that the basic cause of Arab-Israeli tension lies "in Arab belligerence and military threat against Israel."

Highway Death Toll Up To 333

The death toll on the nation's highways during the Thanksgiving weekend continued to rise today but it appeared the pace was about normal for a non-holiday period.

Traffic deaths totaled 333, including 60 under 18 years of age, since the start of the count at 6 p.m. local time Wednesday. The holiday period ends at midnight Sunday.

The death toll in last year's Thanksgiving weekend was a record high of 615. A recent survey of a four-day non-holiday period by The Associated Press showed 546 traffic fatalities.

Traffic fatalities in the nation this year up to Oct. 1 totaled 38,190, an average of more than 130 a day. Last year's toll was 49,000, a record high.

Sixteen persons have died in traffic mishaps on Michigan roads so far during the long Thanksgiving holiday weekend.

Holyoke Party Wins Election In New Zealand

WELLINGTON, New Zealand (AP)—Prime Minister Keith J. Holyoke's National government party was returned to power today in parliamentary elections in which Viet Nam was an issue.

Preliminary returns gave the party 44 of 80 seats, a loss of one. The Labor party stayed at 35 seats and the Social Credit party won a parliamentary seat for the first time.

In the campaign, Holyoke strongly supported the U.S. position in Viet Nam and said, "The whole of New Zealand would hang its head in shame if we withdrew our troops."

New Zealand has a 150-man artillery battery in Viet Nam.

The results gave the National Government party a parliamentary majority for three more years.

Probe Regulation For Water Rates

DETROIT (AP)—Thirteen communities purchasing water from Detroit decided Friday to look into the possibility of support for legislation to place Detroit's water rates under some sort of regulatory agency.

Representatives of the communities decided to ask their governing bodies what type of legislation, if any, is needed.

The representatives expressed concern that Detroit has a monopoly on the sale of water in Southeastern Michigan without control by the public regulatory body that usually accompanies a monopoly.

Communities represented at the meeting included Inkster, Livonia, Wyandotte, Dearborn, Dearborn Heights, Westland, Ecorse, Van Buren, Grosse Ile, Plymouth, and Northville.

Hail To Santa!

DEAR OLD SANTA waved a greeting to the crowds on the Municipal Dock when he arrived — appropriately enough for a port city like Escanaba — by boat on Friday afternoon. Quickly surrounded by admiring youngsters, Santa was whisked off to parade down Ludington St. to herald the start of the holiday season. He will be at Santa's headquarters. The event was sponsored by the Retail Division of the Chamber of Commerce. (Daily Press Photo)

Schools To Get Federal Funds

State Superintendent of Public Instruction Ira Polley announced today that the State Board of Education has approved 14 new school programs for educationally disadvantaged children in the state.

The program, financed with federal education funds appropriated to the state under the 1965 Elementary and Secondary Education, will use $319,000. The board has approved a total of $23.3 million for 347 programs since July 1.

The newly approved programs include:

Delta County Escanaba Area School District — $11,160 for reading and health programs for 66 students in the seventh and eighth grades.

Schoolcraft County Manistique Cooperative School District — $76,984 for programs of cultural enrichment, language skills, reading, mathematics, health, and social work for 450 elementary high school students. All programs will be conducted both during the school year and through the summer.

A kindergarten program will be set up, and teachers will receive in-service training.

Marquette County Ishpeming School District — $6,075 for reading and library programs for 52 students in grades one through seven. Teachers also will receive in-service training.

David Sundwick, Escanaba Native, Dies In Detroit

David Sundwick, a native of Escanaba, died in Detroit at 8 p.m. Friday. He had been ill for about 20 years and was 58 years old.

He was born in Escanaba on Jan. 27, 1918, and graduated from the Hancock High School. He served with United States military forces for a number of years, in recruiting, then in World War II with the fighting forces in Europe and the South Pacific.

Surviving are his wife, the former Kathleen Haag of Detroit; his mother, Mrs. A. W. Sundwick, Detroit; four sisters, Mrs. Harold Gasman of Escanaba, Mrs. Carl Senob of Farmington, Mrs. Robert Miller of Ferndale, and Mrs. Steven Toth of Detroit; and two brothers, A. W. Sundwick and Robert E. Sundwick, both of Flint.

The funeral services will be held in Detroit on Monday morning, and Mr. and Mrs. Gasman are leaving today to attend the services.

Nevada Probes Tax Evasion

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—A federal grand jury heard the first six witnesses Friday in what could become an exhaustive probe of Nevada's $330 million-a-year gambling industry.

The grand jury hopes to learn whether Las Vegas casinos have raked off part of their profits before reporting them for taxes.

The investigation of the city's dozen major casinos could take several months.

Five of the six witnesses are employees of the Riviera Hotel-casino on the Las Vegas strip. The other is an accountant with the Nevada Gaming Control Board.

Auditor Donald Aikin, the first to appear, spent about an hour before the panel. In August, he testified before a state investigation which found no evidence of major wrongdoing by the casinos.

Reagan For President?

California has been a political squirrel cage for a long time. George Murphy got himself elected senator there when he began to slip up as a dancer. Now Ronald Reagan has ousted the governor and taken over by such an impressive margin that he is being seriously talked about by some persons as a prospect for the Republican presidential nomination in 1968.

That's only two years away. To speak seriously of Reagan as a contender means a willingness to take a newcomer to politics as qualified for the Presidency after two years of trial in state office. Even in California this is quite a bit of trust for the highest office in the world.

Some critics have said in defense of Ronald Reagan that he is really not an actor, and he has had quite a bit of administrative experience as an actors union official. But we can understand the apprehension of the citizen who thinks that, although the popular image of the politician may include the eyebrows of a scallawag, it still encompasses a familiarity with government that is usually regarded as indispensable to the satisfactory administration of public office.

If he had to be an actor in his younger years, at least Reagan was a successful one and he had the great good fortune to be type cast as a good guy. While an actor is now acceptable in the political family, it would still be too much if he were not a good guy.

It would have been impossible in Joe Jefferson's day for an actor to have been President, but it still would be impossible for Joe Jefferson to be President if he were alive today because he was so strongly associated with the role of Rip Van Winkle. Similarly with Frank Bacon, who finally was regarded as the real life incarnation of his greatest starring role, "The Old Soak." An actor who starred as Simon Legree in "Uncle Tom's Cabin" couldn't be President because he'd lose the Negro vote.

And it's doubtful that W. C. Fields could have been elected governor as a stepping stone to the presidency. His proposal to do away with children would have lost him the youth vote and that Rudolph the Reindeer red nose wouldn't have been popular with the Dry element. So the simple fact of being an actor is no longer necessarily an impediment nor an assist to a political career, what is important is: What kind of an actor?

Warner Oland couldn't parlay his Charlie Chan image into a senatorial toga and Peter Lorre, playing all those Oriental oddies didn't help his chances. It hasn't been forgotten that it was an actor, John Wilkes Booth, who shot Lincoln, so villains are out.

Any mistrust of actors as candidates for political office probably grew originally from the fact that the actor's art is one of deception and illusion. The method is to feign an emotion, for to indulge it would be too exhausting. The whole purpose is to impress the audience, and the impression is no more effective because it is sincere, and may even be less so.

Television has introduced a new problem for the candidate for state political office and especially for the candidate for national office. His "image" must be acceptable to the public. What the TV cameras see isn't as important as what comes out of the picture tube. Richard Nixon's poor makeup for his TV debate with John F. Kennedy is seriously believed to have been a significant factor in his defeat for the Presidency. On the other hand a candidate with a good public presence has a head start over the candidate who may be ever so able but who comes over as a seedy character.

Ronald Reagan comes over like Caesar returning from the Gallic wars. And, of course, he brings much more than an actor's ability to read a political speech well to the forum. He's been in public life for years; he's been a super-salesman (like George Romney) for General Electric for years and now he'll have a trial by fire in California's statehouse for more than a year before the GOP convenes to decide who will aim the gun at Lyndon Johnson.

Meanwhile, as head of the Republican party in our most populous state, he'll be very influential in the party councils that will try to reconcile its conservative (Goldwater) right and its moderate (Romney-Percy-Rockefeller) center into an effective front to compete with the liberalism of a Democratic party.

Romney Bid Building

By BRUCE BLOSSAT
WASHINGTON — (NEA) — The 1968 presidential bid of Michigan George W. Romney is clearly under way—and is getting significant help from many outside quarters.

A top Romney aide, Robert J. McIntosh, has been freed of his duties as head of the state Commerce Department so he can devote full time to tactics and strategy.

McIntosh, of course, has been busy at the Romney build-up for many months.

Former GOP National Chairman Leonard Hall of New York will be used heavily from here on as a campaign consultant, though fast reports that he has been hired as "campaign manager" seem either incorrect or premature.

Hall, incidentally, is a natural ally, since he has close contacts with two of Romney's long-time Washington friends, J. Willard Marriott and Clifford Folger.

It is not clear at this stage who will take on the vital chore of rustling delegates. Hall often is spoken of in these terms, as he was in 1962-64, but he actually never has undertaken this labor. F. Clifton White, former Goldwater lieutenant, showed conclusively in 1964 that it could be managed brilliantly without vast experience.

The Romney push is obviously not operating today at a full go-ahead, but reports from within the camp suggest the pace will quicken within a fortnight.

Meantime, the governor, riding on his 579,000-vote victory seems highly impractical.

RAILWAYS
Your editorial of Nov. 18, strongly infers that the North Western Railway is some kind of an ungrateful villain because it doesn't want to vacate its Escanaba freight yard.

There are references to past "friendly relations" with the city, of city help in opposing business competition, of alleged mind changes by the railroad in planning, and stranger of all — a charge that in this case it is being "friendly but negative."

Does this mean that the Press feels the North Western is just being plain stubborn and selfish and should instead reconsider its decision because that would be the chummy and neighborly thing to do? If so, this indicates a lack of knowledge of some basic facts relating to this situation.

The North Western lower yard certainly does not today contain the extensive service facilities it did in the day of the steam locomotive. But it still serves the basic functions of a large railroad freight operation that today handles fewer, but longer, trains that have to be made up in the old fashioned way of coupling one car to another. This property contains about 20 acres and 4 miles of track, with space for 500 units of rolling stock varying from huge diesel locomotives and gondolas to coal cars and cabooses.

It has efficient roundhouse facilities, customer service tracks, freight offices, stockroom functions and quarters for the people who perform the work. This is the freight marshalling yard of a large and important center of rail movement on the North Western system. Let's not treat it like a Toonerville Trolley whose tracks are somehow impeding an as yet undetermined civic movement.

The North Western received an option to purchase vacant city land for use in proposed extensive expansion of the Escanaba area handling facilities. Such a venture would greatly enlarge Escanaba railroad activity, and mean that the present lower freight yard property would become even more important and useful than it is now. Thus, property which is vital to the railroad now becomes more so in any planning for expansion of the operations.

Any business decision, whether in municipal, railroad, or newspaper management, involves the weighing and balancing of many factors. In this instance you can be sure the North Western management has weighed and balanced the physical, geographic, and economic factors.

By quickly taking himself out of the race, Hatfield gave Romney an indirect boost as well. The narrowing of the field is an early essential for the moderates, who frittered away their power in 1964.

Hatfield also called attention to the prospect that Romney might get a big lift at the GOP Governors Conference Dec. 9-10 at Colorado Springs.

Counting newcomers and lame ducks, 31 key Republicans could appear in Colorado. Informal polling on preferences is likely, with the Michigan governor an indicated first choice among moderates.

With so many new faces and retiring old faces due there, an earlier proposal of a leading party figure to seek an outright Romney endorsement from the governors today seems highly impractical.

onomical factors involved in an undertaking so huge and complex as the moving of their Escanaba freight yards. These people are certainly best able to judge whether the proposal is advanced by the Daily Press is advantageous; or for that matter whether it is even practical.

The implication contained in the next to the last paragraph of this editorial is disturbing. Does the Press propose that vacant city property already under option be dangled before the railroad as bait — with the potential expansion of a transportation industry now employing 300 persons be left hanging in the balance? Is this the path toward being "friendly and affirmative."

The attitude of some people — against an industry that has been in our community for over 100 years, has asked so little during this time, and is controlled in many ways by the Interstate Commerce Commission — surprises me very much.

Ed Cox
219 N. 11th St.

Editor's note: "The proposal apparently advanced by the Daily Press according to Ed Cox was not advanced by the Daily Press. The Press has only reported it and commented upon it. For the city not to explore fully with the North Western the railway's plans for its properties in the heart of the city, as far as they can be known at this time, in this period when the city is spending a lot of the taxpayers' money on municipal planning that may well set the course of the city's growth for the next century, would, in the view of the Press, be faulty.

The Press intended no criticism of the North Western in the editorial and made none. It stands on what was printed; that might include the whole spectrum of opinion.

If you watch the average declarer follow suit he almost always plays his lowest card. Experts have a tendency to mix them up. Sometimes they have a reason, other times they are merely keeping in practice so as not to form a pattern.

All of this is part of declarer's strategy. He does not want to let his opponents know that he has played his lowest card. There is a lot more strategy possible in the play of high cards.

Here is another old timer from Fred Keppin's book on strategy.

South is declarer at three no-trump. His normal play is to win East's jack of spades with the queen. Then he goes over to dummy with a heart and tries the diamond finesse. If it works he makes a lot of

Finding The Way If Gift's Damaged Notify The Sender

By RALPH W. LOEW, D.D.
So much of our thanksgiving is for things. This year I give thanks for people. That was what Saint Paul was writing from time to time, "I thank my God always on your behalf."

I remember as a child being asked to list the things for which I was thankful. You know that kind of a list, including house, clothing, food and all of the necessities as well as the luxuries of life. And if one is starving, one can thank God for that crust of bread.

But there are the persons who make life meaningful and this year I gave thanks for these men of courage and ability.

It is important that we bowed our heads and gave thanks before we ate our Thanksgiving dinner.

It is just as important to thank God for a Beethoven symphony or a Bruch violin concerto.

It is just as essential to thank God for a good book or a singing poem.

Most of all, it is more important that we thank God for those persons of courage and imagination who have made our bread and our clothing meaningful.

Bishop Brent once described a leader as "a foremost companion" and it is these men who have been out on the frontiers fighting for rights, sharing their faith and bringing us an understanding of what Amos Wilder called "the clemencies of God."

These are our foremost companions. Years ago a man by the name of Herzog scaled Everest. He wrote of his experience of thrill upon reaching the summit. "Our hearts overflowed with unspeakable happiness," he wrote. "If only the others could know my joy touched with humility. It was not just one party that climbed today. It was a whole expedition. I thought of the others perched on the slopes at our feet. And I knew it was because of their efforts to sacrifice together that we knew toil, pain and joy. My fervent wish is that those of us who were united in the face of death could remain fraternally united through life."

It is on Thanksgiving that we think of those who struggled, believed against desperate odds, trusted when others gave up, loved when the loving was difficult and led as a foremost companion. For these we give thanks. For these "I thank my God always on your behalf."

It would take more than $75 billion to build from scratch the present U. S. railroad system.

Dear Ann Landers: Our two teen-agers are in high school. Both are excellent students. Almost every evening at the dinner table, the children lament the brutal competition for grades and the unbearable pressures to keep their averages up so they can get into the "best" colleges. Now get this, Ann: They say cheating is considered a way of life by most students. Almost nobody thinks it is wrong.

My husband asked our teens if they cheated and they both said "No." We believe them because they have demonstrated a high degree of integrity since early childhood. Then the older one said he has given his girl last year's book reviews, but he didn't consider this cheating. I was shocked and my husband hit the roof.

The discussion lasted over an hour with both teens insisting they would be completely friendless if they refused to help their pals.

At times their arguments sound logical but I know they are wrong. Please discuss this subject in your column. I'm sure it will be a point of interest to students, parents and teachers. — WEE VOICE IN THE WILDERNESS

Dear Voice: Real friends elevate our standards and help us to think well of ourselves. Your children are sadly mistaken if they believe they are benefiting their pals when they help them cheat.

The person who is completely honest does not encourage dishonesty in others. Your teens are honest. They are being unfair to the students who study and work for grades when they hand over answers to goof-offs who are looking for something for nothing.

Dear Ann Landers: Mother received a piece of fine china from a friend who visits us every year. The gift arrived last week, broken to smithereens. Mother wrote and thanked her, making no mention of the breakage.

My sister and I say mom should have told the truth. Mom says she didn't want to upset the woman because it's "the thought that counts." Do you feel, as we do, that mom was dishonest? — E. AND G.

Dear E. and G.: When a gift arrives damaged the sender should be notified at once.

Bullet Wounds Young Hunter; Condition Fair

Richard Nelson, 20, of Gladstone Rte. 1, suffered a wound in the lower back when a .22 caliber rifle in the hands of a hunting companion accidentally discharged at 11 a. m. Friday. It is reported by State Police of the Gladstone post.

Nelson's condition is reported as fair at St. Francis Hospital today.

The accident occurred while Nelson and three other young men were in an automobile, loading guns in preparation for hunting. State Police said the incident occurred in Escanaba Township on County Road E 22.

Bernard Lee McCormick, 20, of Gladstone Rte. 1, sitting in the back seat of the automobile, was loading the .22 caliber rifle when it accidentally fired, officers reported.

The bullet penetrated the front seat of the auto and struck Nelson in the lower left back. The wound was not a deep one.

Bullet Goes Wild Others in the party at the time of the accident were Harry Nelson, 21, and James LaBelle, 12, both of Gladstone Rte. 1.

McCormick was charged with violation of a conservation law, having a loaded gun in an automobile, and will appear today in Justice A. J. Mortier's court at Gladstone.

State Police also investigated a shooting accident that involved the use of a .22 caliber rifle in target shooting by a juvenile.

Officers received the complaint from Ernest King of Cornell Rte. 1 at 4:15 p. m. Friday. Earlier in the day a bullet fired in target shooting a half-mile distant struck the front window of the King home, went across the living room and broke a picture on the wall, and then dropped to the floor.

Auto Hits Train Besides the gun incidents, State Police investigated a traffic mishap in which a car driven by Miss Annette Marie Paquette, 18, of Northland, collided with a diesel locomotive on the Escanaba & Lake Superior Railroad crossing with County Road 426 near County Road E 20.

Appeal For 'Gift Of Life'

There's a gift of life the community can make this coming holiday season when the Red Cross Bloodmobile pays its December visit to Escanaba and Gladstone.

To encourage this gift the Escanaba Jaycees and other donors to help meet the quota, said Mrs. Edward Olson, Red Cross blood program recruitment chairman.

Bob Bink, the president of the Jaycees reported that 83 per cent of the membership of the Jaycees have signed appointment cards as donors—and he is challenging other clubs to compete for a higher donor rating.

The bloodmobile will be in Gladstone at the James T. Jones School on Tuesday, Dec. 13, from 3 to 7 p. m.

It will move to the Teamsters Hall in Escanaba on Wednesday when the hours will be from 2:30 to 7:30 p. m. and on Thursday the bloodmobile hours will be from 10 a. m. to 3 p. m.

The quota for the three days is again 307 units, the Red Cross reports.

The organization recruiting besides the Jaycees are the Exchange Club, Rotary Club, Kiwanis Club, Lions Club and Key Club.

"If each of the six organizations participating recruited only 25 blood donors, one-half of the quota would be met. Industry, rural areas, and self recruitment should bring in the remainder," said Mrs. Olson.

Praise, Blame Heaped On Christmas Stamp

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Post Office is bracing itself for an expected onrush of customers eager to purchase what may be its best-selling, most controversial and certainly most colorful Christmas stamp.

The five-color stamp, a reproduction of Flemish Renaissance painter Hans Memling's "Madonna and Child with Angels," went on sale Nov. 1 at Christmas, Mich.

It is its religious theme that has brought the stamp both praise and complaints. In 1962, 1963 and 1964, the Post Office's Christmas stamps depicted nothing more religious than candles, wreaths and Christmas trees. Last year's stamp pictured a winged angel with a trumpet.

Some of those opposed to issuance of a Christmas stamp felt this year's venture went too far.

A spokesman for the American Civil Liberties Union said, "The stamp has a religious motif — a Christian motif — and it therefore is a governmental means of showing preference for a single religion. . . clearly a preferential governmental aid in propagating a religious faith."

The Post Office official line is that the stamp celebrates a famed work of art, as with any Christmas stamp, its real purpose is to have Christmas card mailers pay five cents per card — the Christmas stamp costs five cents — rather than send them under a four-cent rate.

Meaning of Christmas But Postmaster Gen. Lawrence F. O'Brien is known to have told representatives of seven influential Jewish organizations at a hitherto unreported meeting that — as a spokesman said — "he was not going to be a hypocrite in issuing a Christmas stamp."

"He was not going to issue a Christmas stamp and claim it was divorced from religion — from the true meaning of Christmas."

The department has printed 1.2 billion of the stamps at a cost of $504,000 — or 4.2 cents per sheet of 100 — and expects to sell them for $60 million. The average one-color stamp costs 2 cents per sheet of 100, or about $240,000 for 1.2 billion.

New Judges To Get Briefings

LANSING (AP) — The 38 new judges elected Nov. 8 will go to school Dec. 14-16 to learn their duties in handling everything from arraignments to paroles.

William R. Hart, State Supreme Court administrator, said speakers will discuss such topics as rights of the accused, confessions, pre-trial procedures, conduct of trials, sentencing, insanity pleas, commitments to mental institutions, corrections procedures and probation.

Attending the conference at Harbor Springs will be 26 Circuit judges, 10 judges of Detroit Recorder's Court and two judges of the Detroit Common Pleas Court, all taking office Jan. 1.

Speakers will include judges, law professors and officials of the state corrections and mental health departments.

Two of Michigan's 108 Circuit judgeships will be vacant in January—one in Kent County, where judge-elect Wallace Waalkes died last week, and one in Wayne County, where Circuit Judge Thomas Brennan will resign before starting an eight-year term on the Michigan Supreme Court Jan. 1.

World's Newest Cars In Detroit Cobo Hall Show

DETROIT (AP) — The automotive world's brand, spanking new editions—plus some experimental models that may portend what future vehicles will look like—got the public onlooker in Cobo Hall Friday night.

About 13,500 persons, ranging from industry leaders and dealers to guests, looked over 475 vehicles built by automakers from the United States, Canada, England, France, Germany, Italy Japan and Sweden.

The Detroit Auto Dealers Association predicted attendance at the nine-day exhibit would exceed the 211,606 who viewed the show last year, setting the record attendance for post-World War II days.

The show gives spectators the opportunity to compare under one roof the industry's 1967 models.

It also provides engineering displays, cutaway exhibits and special experimental and show cars.

More than 150 recreational vehicles—mobile homes, campers and trailers—are displayed as an exhibit valued at more than $600,000.

Aide Says Reagan Not Star Guided

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — California Gov.-elect Ronald Reagan's top aide hotly denied Friday, Edmund G. Brown's quip that the former actor might believe in astrology.

The rhubarb started Thursday when Brown, referring to Reagan's decision that his inauguration would take place 10 minutes past midnight, Jan. 2 said: "My only guess is that it's because he believes in astrology."

Philip M. Battaglia, Reagan's executive secretary, said his boss "does not believe in astrology."

Battaglia called Brown's remark "unfortunate," adding, "I would rather like to think that this administration intends to get moving at the earliest possible moment."

More people get more news from newspapers than from all other sources combined.

ROBERT I. PASCOE of Champion was hunting deer off the Huron Bay Grade in northwestern Marquette County when he shot this Canada lynx. Ear tufts, "side whiskers," large foot pads and tail markings identified it as a lynx instead of a bobcat. Although still rare in the Upper Peninsula, lynx appear to be making a comeback.

Most Owners Are Reached In Car Recall Campaign

DETROIT (AP) — Auto companies reported Friday they had made considerable progress in notifying more than half a million motorists that their cars or trucks were involved in the latest recall campaign.

Ford, General Motors and Chrysler said their notification program was virtually complete, while American Motors said it would take another two to three weeks to notify all AMC owners involved.

The new highway safety law requires that auto manufacturers, who find a potential defect in their cars, must notify the customer by registered mail and must also notify the dealer and the secretary of commerce.

Some 527,862 U.S. built cars were involved in the latest recall campaign, along with numerous foreign makes ranging from Rolls Royce to Honda.

Few actual defects were found in the thousands of cars checked, industry sources said.
